Mr. Hennings,

We are a new Weather Central Customer and could not be happier. GEUS is an over builder and we compete not only with the incumbent cable provider, we also compete with Satellite as do cable operators across the nation.

The Weather Central product was chosen to provide a difference between GEUS and our competition and what better stage than local weather. Living in Texas local weather can not only define quality of life but also quantity of life depending on the severity of the weather.

Weather Central is a cost effective service to our customers. I would also like to complement Weather Central's service and Training departments as one of the best that we do business with.

Sincerely,
